Herbert Hoover To Angle For Big Fish Off Coastline Of Southern California

300-POUNDERS OBJECTIVE ON OCEAN JAUNT

President-Elect Due To Arrive In Honduras
On Sunday

REGRETS SENT TO NATIONS BY TRAVEL

Sea Peril Forces Voyager
To Send Regrets To
Two Nations

Aboard U. S. S. Maryland, via wireless to Los Angeles, Nov. 21.— President-elect Herbert Hoover will try his hand at deep sea fishing today off the southern tip of Lower California, known as over the world as the mecca of fishermen in the western hemisphere.

Mr. Hoover exchanged his white flannels for the sturdy canvas
clothes of a fisherman this morning and busied himself with getting his troll lines and other deep sea equipment in readiness in his quest for tarpon, Marlin, sailfish and yellow-tails. He is out avowedly for "bites" scaling upwards the three hundred pounds.

The fishing will be done from a motor launch, about 40 miles southwest of Cape San Lucas. Mr.
Hoover has studied these famous spawning grounds from afar for many years, and today he was eager to have a try at the game fish which are so abundant.

Since leaving San Pedro, the Maryland bearing the Hoover party on the good-will tour to Central and South America has been making steady progress.

It is expected that the Maryland
will steam into the first foreign port—Amazilia, Honduras—Sunday.
The battleship, however, will have to maintain a steady cruising speed of seventeen knots an hour in order to keep on schedule time.

Two communications have been sent to the American legations at Panama and Guatemala in which Mr. Hoover expressed regret that he cannot visit either country. The note to Panama said:

"Mr. Hoover requests the American legation to express to the president of Panama his deep and sincere regrets at not being able owing to pressure of time to call at Panama and pay his respects to the president and peoples of a country in whose prosperity, progress and happiness he has the most friendly interest."

The following was sent to the American legation at Guatemala:

"Mr. Hoover requests the American legation to inform the president that he had hoped to have the pleasure of calling at Guatemala.

"But owing to the pressure of time and difficulties of landing and
the danger in the event of bad weather,
he has been compelled to abandon this project and asks you to express to the president his cordial appreciation of the president's most cordial invitation and his extreme regrets that he shall not have the pleasure of calling and paying his respects and of visiting a country in whose progress and prosperity he has the deepest interest, and for which he cherishes the most friendly sentiments."

Goodyear to Build Other Baby Blimps

Akron, O., Nov. 21.—The two Goodyear baby blimps, the Puritan and the Pilgrim, will have two sisters soon, according to an announcement from the Goodyear
Zeppelin corporation.

The two new blimps are to be used for demonstration purposes
and for training of a personnel for lighter than air craft.

It is expected that the diminutive
craft will make tours of the country demonstrating the value of lighter-than-air ships.

The Puritan and the Pilgrim are said to be the two smallest lighter-than-air ships in the world.

TALES CONFLICT IN SHIP QUIZZ

Crew Claims Leaks Were
Not Stopped; Inspectors
Disagree

New York Nov. 21.—The joint inquiry here into the sinking of the Holt & Lamport liner, Vestria, off the Virginia capes a week ago Monday resolved itself today into a question of veracity between inspectors
of the United States Steamboat Inspection Service and members of the crew regarding the seaworthiness of the ill-fated vessel.

United States Atty. Charles H.
Tuttle and nautical experts directing the federal inquiry had before them on the one hand the testimony of the members of the crew of the Vestria that the liner had leaked on her four previous voyages,
and that nothing had been done to repair the more than 50 leaks.

On the other hand were the statements of three inspectors, made under oath in the customs house before a board representing the United States Department of Commerce
that they had made a thorough four day inspection of the Vestria just before her last voyage and found her seaworthy. They also denied charges that they had been drinking during the inspection.

Reporter Testifies
The department of commerce inquiry was resumed shortly after 10 o'clock this morning. The first witness was James Duffy, a newspaper reporter who interviewed Frederick Sorenson, one of the survivors.
Duffy refuted the denial made by Sorenson on the stand yesterday to the effect that Duffy and other newspaper men had misquoted him.
Duffy insisted that Sorenson had charged the captain of the Vestria
and the crew with "criminal negligence."

The disputed interview was given by Sorenson aboard the rescue ship American Shipper. John Mc-Lain, another reporter, yesterday
testified that the interview as printed was true.

Ohio State Alumni Will Have County Banquet In Salem

Alumni of Ohio State university
now residing in Columbiana county are making preparations to observe
Ohio State day, Friday, Dec. 7.

This annual "get-together" will be held in Salem, with a banquet and dance in the evening. The place is to be selected later.

Last year 108 attended the Columbiana county celebration and it was the largest in the state, with the exception of Columbus and Cincinnati gatherings. This year the committee hopes to make it larger and more entertaining.

The committee met in Salem last night and will meet again Friday night to further plans. Present officers of the county alumni are: Salem residents. They are: President, Dr. R. T. Holzbach; vice president,
Mrs. Ralph Hoff; secretary, Dr. G.
E. Byers.

old Frank Peck fell into a kettle of boiling tar.

CITY EXTENSION ASKED BY PERRY TOWNSHIP GROUP

Council Presented With Petition Signed By Residents

MEMBER APPROVES
PLAN; COSTS CITED

Matter Referred to Street
Committee For Check;
Up Next Meeting

A petition that the city should extend its corporation limits to include their properties was received by city council in its meeting Tuesday night, from eight residents of Perry township, and referred to the streets,
alloys and sidewalks committee for investigation.

The petitioners are all residents of the township, just adjacent to the city corporation limits, according to the petition, and wish to be included in the city.

Mrs. Anna Stratton was in favor of approving the request, and stated that the city's borders ought to be extended, the city made larger.

Councilman Slocum suggested referring the matter to the streets,
alloys, and sidewalks committee, of which Max Adler is chairman, for investigation.

"The extension of a city's limits
may involve a great expense, as it means the extension of our water main, installation of sewers, and other costs to the city. The expense of doing this may not equal the revenue received by the city, so in matters of such importance, we should detail a careful investigation," Slocum declared.

Adler's committee was instructed to carry on this investigation and make a report at the next meeting.

Sidewalks Must Be Improved Is Edict Of Salem Council

Property owners must either improve their sidewalks or the city will do it for them and then present the bill for the work.

This action was taken by city council last night, in a discussion
brought up by members of the streets, alloys and sidewalks committee.

The committee has brought several sidewalk resolutions before council, where they were passed, but there, they said, action stopped.
Only a small percentage of the resolutions passed have been acted upon by property owners, and they instructed Service Director C. A.
Cavanaugh to repair sidewalks
where ordinances have been passed for improvements and then present
the bill to the property owner.

Two resolutions for laying sidewalks on East Sixth st., were passed last night.

Columbiana School Masters In Meeting

Wellsville public schools was elected president of the Columbiana County Schoolmasters Association at the meeting held in Sallineville Tuesday evening. Daw succeeds J. L. Gray of Salem.

elected vice president, and W. J.
Springer, principal of Salem High school was chosen secretary-treasurer.

Judge Lyons of the Youngstown municipal court was the speaker at the meeting, speaking on "Crimes and Crime Waves."

Radio Reallocation Is Success In Most Of United States; Complaints Also Rendered

Washington, Nov. 21.—Barring scattered jama in the national broadcasting system, the allocation of wave lengths, power and time-division, set up November 11, has accomplished a "tremendous improvement in long-distance reception," Radio Commissioner O. H.
Caldwell declared today.

Ten thousand letters and telegrams from every state have been received by the commission since
the allocations were established,
many commending the setup, others
registering complaints. These letters range from the comment "wonderful" to "go hang a mill-stone around your neck and jump in the nearest creek."

SILVER NAMED TO STATE POST

Will Be Finance Head Of Cooper Cabinet; Select
Secretary

Columbus, Nov. 21.—Harry D. Silver, Eaton, today was named by Gov.-elect Myers Y. Cooper as director of finance in his cabinet when the new administration takes over the reins of government in January.
At the same time, Cooper announced the selection of Charles A. Jones, Columbus, to serve as his private secretary, these marking the first appointments made by the government-elect.

Jones served as director of publicity in the recent Republican state campaign. He was formerly secretary to the late Senator Frank B. Willis and was managing the latter's campaign for the presidential nomination when the senator
died suddenly at Delaware.

Silver represented Preble county
for four terms in the state legislature, later becoming deputy auditor
under State Auditor Joseph T.
Tracy, but resigned to manage Cooper's unsuccessful campaign for governor in 1926. Following Cooper's triumph in the August primary, Silver became Republican state campaign manager.

Man Buried Alive In Akron Cave-In

Akron, Nov. 21.—One man was buried alive, and two others narrowly escaped death here today
when a sand bank at the Loomis
Coal & Supply Co. near here, caved
in and buried the men.

Fred West, 30, an official of the company is dead and Essie Fears and John Jackson, two laborers were injured.

The bank was 50 feet high and weighed 75 tons, according to estimates. The three men were completely covered but firemen succeeded in rescuing the two laborers.

The heavy rains in the past few days are believed to have undermined the bank.

Fears suffered a broken leg and
Jackson is suffering from shock.

Salvation Army's Chief Is Ill

London, Nov. 21.—Gen. Gen.
Bramwell Booth, veteran head of the Salvation Army, lies critically ill, interest today centers upon a slip of paper in a sealed envelope locked in the office safe of a London attorney.

That slip bears the name of the person General Booth has appointed to succeed him as chief of the Salvation Army.
No one but General Booth
knew that name.

Succession to the stewardship of the Salvation Army is not hereditary. One of the first duties of a new leader is to select his successor. If, at any time during his period of office
he sees fit to alter his decision
he is at liberty to do so.

It is understood that many American leaders regard Commander Evangeline Booth, of New York City, as the logical successor to General Bramwell Booth. She is expected to arrive in England shortly.

IMMIGRATION TO FORM DISCUSSION

Tightening of Bars Asked
By One Group; Other
Favors Opening

Washington, Nov. 21.—Congressional backers of restricted immigration, accepting the recent election as a popular endorsement of the policy, today opened a campaign to draw the bars tighter than ever in the coming session.

A meeting of the house immigration committee called for today—
the first committee gathering for the new session—signaled the opening of the drive.

Realizing the difficulties faced in enactment of legislation in the short session, ardent restrictionists prepared to urge the committee to demand prompt action on many important measures.

Among the measures expected to be dealt with by congress are:
The national clause, changing the basis of immigrant quotas.

Effort to Kill
The measure has been postponed
twice and an effort is expected to be made to kill it despite a strong demand for the law.

A drastic deportation bill, aimed chiefly at alien law violators. The bill is on the house calendar.

Extension of the restricted system
to Canada, Mexico and South America as provided in the Box bill pending in committee.

The Schneider bill legalizing entrance of immigrants smuggled in before 1921. Anti-restrictionists propose to extend it to 1924, thus legalizing entry of 1,000,000 aliens.

promise in concert, led by Rena Kaminsky. Mary E. Koehnrich led the girls in singing some Girl Scout songs.

girls, after which they sang tape.
Friday is Talent and Training day and that evening the troop will meet at the Memorial building. A ceremony and some tests will be given for interested parents and friends.

Senate Confronted By Heavy Legislative Program Soon

Boulder Dam Measure To Have Right of Way
At Opening

Washington, Nov. 21.—A top-heavy legislative program awaits the senate, while a rather easy session confronts the house, although both branches of congress must enact $4,700,000,000 worth of departmental appropriation bills.

This was the legislative outlook of congress today with its first meeting of the short session two weeks away.

The senate's calendar will be so heavy, administration leaders admitted that thousands of bills,
private and public, will be slain
in the mad rush for legislation before the seventh congress expires at noon on March 4 next. The jam is due partly to the long filibuster last spring by opponents of the Swing-Johnson Boulder dam bill.

The Boulder dam measure has the right of way in the senate under an agreement entered before the last session ended. This will not insure its enactment by any means, but the bill must be disposed of in some fashion before any other important business can be transacted. The appropriation bills, however, will supercede it, probably by unanimous consent, due to their privileged character.

New Navy Bill
The senate program tentatively adopted by administration leaders includes plans to enact the new
"big navy" bill, which provides for the construction of 15 fast cruisers

and an airplane carrier, for passage of a new farm relief bill, for some action on president Coolidge's veto of the Norris Muscle Shoals bill and for ratification of the Kellogg anti-war treaty.

Some Democratic leaders have indicated they favor the calling of a special session and argued that farm relief, the navy bill and the Kellogg pact can be disposed of at the coming short session, thus giving the country another nine-months legislative rest.

Bus Company Hailed Before Commission To Explain Status

Acting upon a complaint filed by officials of the Stark Electric company, the state utilities commission today cited Oyster & Watson
to appear before the commission on Dec. 11 to show cause why the commission should not revoke the certificate which permits them to operate a motor transportation route between Sebring and Alliance, the complaint alleged that a through passenger traffic was being handled
in violation of the certificate.

The Stark Electric company also lodged a protest against the application of the Warren-Salem coach
line for the removal by the commission of certain restrictions embodied in the certificate under which the coach line operates.

Mahoning Grangers Hold Big Grange

Mahoning county Pomona grange will meet next Saturday at the Goshen township High school auditorium, Damascus, with Smith grange host.

This grange will celebrate its 50th anniversary in November, 1929, and at this meeting will start its charter traveling. The charter will be taken to each grange in the county in turn.
The members of the grange having the charter will go in a body and they will give a program. The last one to get the charter will be Milton grange, the charter having been opened at this grange and the celebration will be held at its hall, in one year.

City Electrician To Receive Pay Boost

City Electrician Lee Saunders was voted an increase in salary of $25
per month by city council Tuesday night. The increase was made at the recommendation of the council
lighting committee, in a report made by Councilman Burns.

Erection of Two Aerials And Removal Of Ground Aids

or south stations the antenna running in that direction could be used,
the other for the east and west stations.

"The listener should experiment
with antennas of different length
as frequently too much aerial is employed, while this increases volume,
it also brings greater interference."

"It may be found that cutting off the ground of the set will improve reception from certain stations."

There are yet several complicated situations to work out. In Chicago one station, backed by powerful interests, is seeking unlimited time and greater power; four groups in the New York metropolis area, including one group in nearby Jersey, are fighting for additional broadcasting time; Iowa and St. Louis stations are dissatisfied with time division.

First Step In Operation Of Plants Passes

Equipment to Be Bought
For Combining Of Power Supply

ADLER OBJECTS TO
ACTION OF GROUP

Councilman Wants More Definite Data On Project

The appropriation ordinance,
transferring $12,000 from the water fund of the service department to the waterworks removal fund for the purchase of an air compressor,
pumps, meters, and pipes for air lines, was given its third reading and passed by council in its meeting Tuesday night.

This was the first step in the combination of the city waterworks
pumping station and the sewage treatment plant, now under construction which council approved
two months ago.

Councilman Max Adler cast the only dissenting vote against the appropriation, stating that his negative vote was in accord with the stand he took when the proposition was first brought before the body.

"We have no definite statistics
that the city will save money; all we have is a rough estimate. We have an expensive waterworks pumping station now in operation, and I can't see where the city will save money by abandoning this and buying new equipment. If they do not abandon it, it will mean paying salaries of workers at both plants—there will be no savings here. I move council keep hands off until the disposal plant is completed, and we see what it costs," Adler stated.

Councilman Filler moved adoption of the ordinance, P. J. Dean making the second. Mrs. Stratton declared that there were many good points in Adler's statements, but that council was willing to accept
City Engineer P. S. Backhoff's statistics, and the ordinance was passed.

Engineer Replies

Backhoff today took exception to Adler's statements, stating that the councilman was taking an administrative stand, when his duties as a member of council were only legislative.

"We have proved to Mr. Adler that the city will save money on the combination. When I submitted statistics to council, containing my estimates, he voted in favor of combining the plants, and now it seems he is backing what he originally voted for. I am sorry he did not cite some discrepancy in my estimates, in order that I will be able to clear up the situation. As it is he merely stated his opinion of the matter."

CHRISTMAS SAVINGS

At this season of the year it is customary for the banks of the several cities in the land to announce the totals in their Christmas savings funds. This year in Salem more than 90 thousand dollars was paid out, or will have been paid out within a very few days, while in the nation at large more than $500,000,000 will be taken from savings accounts and put into active circulation.

These are tremendous sums of money. In Salem anyone can see with half an eye what it means to business to have even half of the total Christmas savings fund put to use. In the United States if only $250,000,000 is taken from the banks and spent for Christmas things, imagine what a stimulus it will be to an already active retail market.

Christmas savings clubs have come to be recognized as component parts of most of the banks. Some of the clubs are small, while others have thousands of members. Some of the accounts are for only a nickle a week, while others are for as much as $10 a week. The idea is the same in all instances, however—thrift. And where thrift is enhanced through the medium of Christmas savings clubs, the banks are the beneficiaries as well as the community in which that bank is located.

The substantial citizen of any city is the citizen who saves his or her money. What, then, is a better method of inculcating the habit of thrift in the individual than through the medium of the Christmas savings club? Each year these clubs show gradual increases in total members and in total sums saved. Let the good work go on.

ADDS EFFICIENCY

From Washington, the national advisory committee for aeronautics announces the development of a new cooling for radial air-cooled motors which increases by almost a third the effective horsepower of airplane engines in flight. The development is believed by the members of the committee and army and navy experts who have witnessed tests of the new cooling to be the most valuable single contribution to aeronautics since the war. If installed as standard plane equipment at the factory, its cost will not exceed $25, and its cash value to the industry is held to be almost invaluable.

"Figured in terms of horsepower required to produce the increased speed," says the announcement, "it represents a minimum of $1,500 a plane, while, by making possible, in the case of a 200-horsepower engine capable of driving a plane at a rate of 125 miles per hour, attainment of the same speed at 160 horsepower, it means a saving of three gallons of gas for each hour of flight."

The new device resembles a large bowl from which the bottom has been removed to make room for the propeller shaft which is slipped over the head of the machine and firmly bolted in place. Enough air is admitted through this hole in the bottom of the bowl to cool the motor. Thus far no advantage is gained. But the air thus admitted is so controlled by the cooling as to effuse a smooth stream of air to glide over the entire fuselage. This cuts down the air resistance which planes encounter to such an extent as to add thirty per cent to the effectiveness of the motor's horsepower. The measure of this cutting down of air resistance may be better understood when it is stated that it reduces the dragging effect on the engine to seventy-five pounds when a plane is traveling at the rate of 100 miles an hour.

In a word, the device works two ways as an aid to efficiency. It will permit of a lightening of the machine by a reduction of engine weight and it will effect a conservation of gas. A saving of three gallons of gas for every hour of flight would mean 100 gallons of gas saved in a flight across the North Atlantic. Think what a margin of safety this saving of gas would mean in such a flight. It might spell the difference between success and failure to the aviator, the difference between life and death.

Unquestionably, the experts are justified in holding the device the "most valuable single contribution to airplane efficiency since the war."

What Others Say

Next to the breaking of the Solid South the most striking incident of last week's election was the return of Wisconsin to the Republican electoral column. This state wandered away in 1924, when the elder La Follette put aside all pretenses of technical Republican regularity and ran for president as the leader of a new third party composed of La Folletteites, Farmer-Laborites, Socialists and certain labor union elements. His own conservatism voted for him, and he carried no other state.

Wisconsin had given its electors McKimley in 1896 and 1900, to Roosevelt in 1904 and to Taft in 1908. It had been carried by Wilson in 1912, but had reverted to Hughes in 1916 and to Harding in 1920. In 1924, however, the state government passed into the hands of the La Follette dynasty, and remained there, with only the interval of 1914-20, until 1926, where Gov. Zimmerman was re-elected as a dissenting La Folletteite. Now the state has been won by Mr. Hoover by a plurality of 100,000, and Walter J. Kohler, regular Republican, anti-La Follette nominee for governor, has won it by a plurality exceeding 150,000.

Wisconsin was put down confidently as a Smith state, both because of its wetness and of the scarcely veiled hostility of the La Follette faction to Mr. Hoover's candidacy. Senator Blaine came out openly for Gov. Smith. Senator La Follette was passive in his opposition. Only two of the nine La Follette representatives in congress supported Mr. Hoover. In 1924 the senior La Follette polled 453,678 votes and John W. Davis 68,115, an anti-Republican total of 521,793. President Coolidge's vote was 311,614, leaving an anti-Republican margin of 210,179. Mr. Hoover gained about 290,000 votes, compared with 1924, and the Smith vote was about 100,000 less than the combined La Follette-Davis vote of that year.

Though the younger La Follette was re-elected to the senate as a Republican, the prestige of his organization has been shattered by the Hoover victory and the loss of the governorship. Two anti-La Follette representatives in congress have been chosen and two former La Follette representatives, re-elected have turned regular.

CHILDHOOD HEALTH DETERMINES FUTURE

By Royal S. Copeland, M. D.
United States Senator from New York. Former Commissioner of Health, New York City.

A short time ago my duties took me to Elmira, N. Y. The mayor and an ex-mayor of the city invited me to visit the State Reformatory for Boys. I am glad I went. Dr. Christian is the able director of that institution. Answering our questions, he gave us much valuable information concerning the causes of delinquency and the human efforts to combat it.

Here are some interesting facts: In the penal institutions of New York state are 6,000 males and only 90 women. On the face of it, that speaks pretty well for our civilization. Of course there are other considerations involved than incarceration in prisons.

There have been 37,000 boys in the Elmira state reformatory since its founding. Of these only two were ever Boy Scouts. Another state institution for wayward boys has cared for 38,000. Not one of these was ever a Boy Scout. In short, out of a population of 75,000, only two lads who have had the privileges of membership in the Boy Scout movement have fallen from grace sufficiently to go to prison. That is wonderful!

With the large Jewish population of my state, it speaks mightily well for that race that of the 1,200 boys in Elmira, only 62 are of that faith. This speaks well for the Jews and for their sheltering societies.

Most of the boys who go to the State Reformatory are undernourished and poorly nourished. Their warped and abnormal minds are the natural results of poorly fed brains, badly nourished by impoverished blood.

Dr. Christian and his able staff devote themselves to the responsibility of these frail little bodies. Wholesome, nourishing food is supplied. Out of door work and setting on exercises in good weather develop the muscles. Trades are taught to hold the interest. Gradually the minds of the lads respond to the improved health and stronger bodies.

I saw a thousand of the inmates in a military dress parade, which we helped to review. Their maneuvers were "snappy" and their conduct superb.

The answer was gratifying. "Two out of three boys paroled stay good." In short, there are at least 50 per cent of successes on the first trial. Most of those who are returned make good eventually.

Dr. Christian emphasizes the importance of parental control. The child humored in his eating and his habits, permitted to run down in health because of wrong living, and never held to account for his manner of life—such a child faces disaster.

The physical foundation laid in early childhood determines the future. There can be no doubt, I am sure, of the correctness of this view. It is Dr. Christian's conclusion, based on years of experience with delinquents. It is the teaching of science. Certainly it harmonizes with the ideas of the medical profession.

No gift a parent can possibly give his child can be more precious than the gift of good health. That is a matter which, in most instances, is within the control of the parent.

Answers to Health Queries
I. H. Q.—Is there a cure for St. Vitus's dance or chorea?

A.—Since the trouble is due to a nervous disturbance, this must be cleared up first of all. Avoid undue strain or tax upon the nerves and build up the health in general. For further particulars send a self-addressed, stamped envelope and repeat your question.

M. M. Q.—What causes my legs and fingers to feel cold and numb at times?

A.—You are probably troubled with poor circulation due in most instances to a run-down state of health. Try to build up your entire system by proper exercise and diet. For full particulars send a self-addressed, stamped envelope and repeat your question.

The Stars Say—

For Thursday, Nov. 22.

By GENEVIEVE KEMBLE.

ACCORDING to the planetary operations for this day there will be given much opportunity for calling into requisition the opposing force to delays, obstacles and seemingly insurmountable barriers. But the grim sternness and patience of Saturn, equated by Luna, will assist to the desired perseverance and dogged determination necessary to overcome these stubborn obstructions. But little gain will be made financially since the energies must be bent to holding ground.

Those whose birthday it is may expect a year of tenacious obstructions, with postponements and possible financial setbacks, but they should hold to the course by determination, perseverance and unflinching diligence. Let patience have its perfect work. A child born on this day should be given the instruction and training to enable it to meet obstacles and vicissitudes with patience, resolution and perseverance, as it may succeed by steadfast purpose.

MISSIONARY IN LIBERIA WINS HEAD HUNTERS

Salem, Nov. 21. — Ferocious head-hunters, trackless jungle, terrible fever, and all the other elements of an undeveloped tropical country have been unable to prevent the work of Robert Campbell, Episcopal missionary of Liberia.

For thirteen years Bishop Campbell has struggled relentlessly with the forces of darkness, and according to the men who attended the annual Episcopal convention in Liberia, he is emerging a winner. He has been a bishop only three years of this time. For approximately ten years he was Prior of Holy Cross mission to interior Liberia.

Originally an Augustinian monk, St. Andrew's mission to the native people of Liberia, Campbell went to Liberia in 1918 as Prior of the Holy Cross mission. With the exception of a few years, during which he labored in the interior, he has been in the country since 1925, when the trial convention at New Orleans elected him bishop.

Appointed Bishop of Liberia, though still full of fever and almost blind, he returned to Liberia and accepted the post. Since that time he has always been on the go, traveling on foot, by canoe, or by airplane, through the jungles, whose only roads are game trails, converting tribes, establishing schools and helping natives to establish a sound economic system.

Until a year ago there were no roads in his jurisdiction but from his home in Monrovia he has been gradually placing with no weapon except his brevity.

He has never yet been attacked by any of the numerous tribes of head-hunters whom he is gradually taming by his gentle voice and his example, he says, welcome him as a missionary as they are aware that such missions bring schools and help to economic progress.

Since the establishment of the Liberian colony as a home for American negroes more than a year ago, the civilized negroes have looked almost enviously to America for guidance and in every endeavor. Consequently, though they have their government and economic progress, they have failed to advance industrially with the times.

Utilizing Resources

Shop Campbell is helping them advance, with his industrial knowledge by teaching them to utilize natural resources abounding in the country.

Before accepting help spiritually, the natives in the interior must be assured of material help. They are readily converted after a mission is established and before conversion rarely at a priest. The priest, however, must wear a beard, for the Mohammedans have firmly implanted the idea that a man of God may be without a beard.

Workers Undermine Old Roman Cemetery

Adapest, Nov. 21. — A 1800-2000 old Roman cemetery was discovered by railway workers in the city of Budapest. While digging the railway line, the spade of an struck against a marble obelisk and soon two others were found.

The authorities were informed and an expert excavation was started. So far 82 graves were laid out, all containing the remains of only very wealthy Romans. Useful jewels, funeral relics and medical instruments were found besides the skeletons, who were once probably prominent members of the Roman colony in the ruins of which are figuring in every tourist guide to Budapest.

Some of the graves were housing skeletons. One of them was a silver mirror between her eyes. The hollow sockets of her eyes were looking into it for 2000 years.

Ohio Game Has Great Food Value; Hunters Pay Costs

Nearly Half-Million Taken To Fields of State For Bunnies

Columbus, Nov. 21.—Of the 400,000 licensed hunters in Ohio it is estimated that at least 300,000 were active on the opening of the rabbit and pheasant season November 15.

The food value of the game produced in Ohio is enormous when the fact that at least half a million rabbits were taken the first day alone. The number killed is probably much larger than half a million. Most hunters will bag at least one rabbit. Some may get none but the majority will kill from three to five. Many will get the limit of five. The average weight of dressed rabbits is about two pounds. Each hunter is entitled to two pheasants. Thirty per cent of the hunters will kill at least one pheasant.

Game Crop

Ohio's crop of game and wild life has food value. This is often overlooked by those who do not hunt and who may think only of the killing of game. Hunters are interested in securing game as food as much as they are in actual hunting for game. The raising of game does not cost the taxpayers one cent in direct taxation. It is paid for with sportsmen's license money. Ohio sportsmen contribute nearly half a million dollars in license fees each year to the game department.

Many Killed

When the number of rabbits and pheasants killed each day of the season is estimated, the food value is enormous. The recreational value of a day afield is to be considered. Hunters are no longer destroying property, breaking fences and committing depredations as they did years ago, due to the educational work of the sportsmen's organization.

Only a small per cent of the 400,000 hunters will violate the game laws or destroy property. They are respecting the farmer's rights and Ohio farmers this year are more liberal in granting permission to hunt than they have been for 20 years, according to reports of League of Ohio Sportsmen headquarters.

Waste Lands

The job of maintaining the supply of game is a big one for the game department. Ohio's waste lands can be made to produce ten times as much game as they now produce. The sportsmen in planning a state department of construction have a big program of game breeding and restocking in mind.

The hunting season also brings millions of dollars to Ohio business men, to sporting goods stores, garages, gasoline stations, hotels, railways, clothing merchants. Ohio farmers also realize an income from

Zogu Asks Austria For Ancient Crown To Wear on Nov. 28

Vienna Nov. 21.—Zogu I, ruler of all Albanians wants to adorn his new kingship with an old, dignified crown, or rather with the historical helmet of the Albanian national hero Skanderbeg.

Zogu has selected November 28, for the coronation ceremony, which will be held in Kroia, the legendary citadel of Skanderbeg. For this occasion he wishes to use the helmet-crown, which is, however, since the sixteenth century in possession of the Austrian state. He hopes that the Austrian government will comply with his wishes, endorsed by Mussolini and that the mediaeval helmet, made from copper and iron, will be promoted from an exhibit in the Vienna museum to the symbol of power of the king of all Albanians.

On November 28 Zogu is also expected to announce his change of religion. Like Skanderbeg in the 15th century, he has cast away the Moslem faith and become a Catholic, thus clearing the way for his eagerly desired family connection with the Italian royal family. His next aim is the foundation of a "serbian" dynasty by marrying the Italian king's daughter, Princess Giovanna.

The Moslem clans of Albania, therefore, turned against Zogu, a plot against his life was discovered and martial law was proclaimed throughout the country. Most Albanian news comes through Belgrade, and sometimes is denied by Rome. Confirmation is impossible.

as a tiller of the soil, also holds the post of minister of the Radical United Brethren church here and staunchly declares the puzzling lights to be a manifestation of the power of the Deity. Schlessers further avers the lights are messages from Divine providence urging him to forsake farming and to devote his entire time to preaching the Gospel.

Actual appearance of the lights is touched for by scores of Schlessers' denomination who attend prayer meetings at the farm.

At one of the evening meetings recently two lights appeared at the end of the farm lane and moved sedately up the lane to the barn near the kneeling congregation. Schlessers said. Here they were joined by another light which apparently materialized out of thin air.

The three lights then passed slowly over the prayer meeting, pressing the kneeling group down with irresistible power, according to members of the congregation. Those who dared lift their eyes to witness the awesome spectacle declared two of the lights then departed down the lane until they were lost to view while the third darted upward and out of sight.

Attracted by the strange tales, a scientist from Purdue university spent two days and two nights at the farm but was unable to account for the appearance of the lights it is said. Scoffers ridicule Schlessers' theory and declare the lights to be the glow made by swamp gas or the work of a practical joker.

Meanwhile, thousands from Fort Wayne and Toledo are visiting the farm to attempt an explanation of the weird lights.

No irritating soap in it, yet it makes a thick, wonderfully cool lather. Instantly softens beard so even a dull blade slides thru like a breeze. Cuts shaving time in half, saves blades. Most important, leaves your face soft and smooth for hours. Ask for KEEN shaving cream. Money back if not delighted. If unable to get from drugstore, send 50c to Gleason Co., Findlay, O., Desk 4. ## CHRISTMAS SAVINGS

At this season of the year it is customary for the banks of the several cities in the land to announce the totals in their Christmas savings funds. This year in Salem more than 93 thousand dollars was paid out, or will have been paid out within a very few days, while in the nation at large more than $500,000,000 will be taken from savings accounts and put into active circulation.

These are tremendous sums of money. In Salem anyone can see with half an eye what it means to business to have even half of the total Christmas savings fund put to use. In the United States if only $250,000,000 is taken from the banks and spent for Christmas things, imagine what a stimulus it will be to an already active retail market.

Christmas savings clubs have come to be recognized as component parts of most of the banks. Some of the clubs are small, while others have thousands of members. Some of the accounts are for only a nickle a week, while others are for as much as $10 a week. The idea is the same in all instances, however—thrift. And where thrift is enhanced through the medium of Christmas savings clubs, the banks are the beneficiaries as well as the community in which that bank is located.

The substantial citizen of any city is the citizen who saves his or her money. What, then, is a better method of inculcating the habit of thrift in the individual than through the medium of the Christmas savings club? Each year these clubs show gradual increases in total members and in total sums saved. Let the good work go on.

ADDS EFFICIENCY

From Washington, the national advisory committee for aeronautics announces the development of a new cowling for radial air-cooled motors which increases by almost a third the effective horsepower of airplane engines in flight. The development is believed by the members of the committee and army and navy experts who have witnessed tests of the new cowling to be the most valuable single contribution to aeronautics since the war. If installed as standard plane equipment at the factory, its cost will not exceed $25, and its cash value to the industry is held to be almost invaluable.

"Figured in terms of horsepower required to produce the increased speed," says the announcement, "it represents a minimum of $1,500 a plane, while, by making possible, in the case of a 200-horsepower engine capable of driving a plane at a rate of 125 miles per hour, attainment of the same speed at 160 horsepower, it means a saving of three gallons of gas for each hour of flight."

The new device resembles a large bowl from which the bottom has been removed to make room for the propeller shaft which is slipped over the head of the machine and firmly bolted in place. Enough air is admitted through this hole in the bottom of the bowl to cool the motor. Thus far no advantage is gained. But the air thus admitted is so controlled by the cowling as to cause a smooth stream of air to glide over the entire fuselage. This cuts down the air resistance which planes encounter to such an extent as to add thirty per cent to the effectiveness of the motor's horsepower. The measure of this cutting down of air resistance may be better understood when it is stated that it reduces the dragging effect on the engine to seventy-five pounds when a plane is traveling at the rate of 100 miles an hour.

In a word, the device works two ways as an aid to air transportation. It will permit of a lightening of the machine by a reduction of engine weight and it will effect a conservation of gas. A saving of three gallons of gas for every hour of flight would mean 100 gallons of gas saved in a flight across the North Atlantic. Think what a margin of safety this saving of gas would mean in such a flight. It might spell the difference between success and failure to the aviator, the difference between life and death. Unquestionably, the experts are

What Others Say

Next to the breaking of the Solid South the most striking incident of last week's election was the return of Wisconsin to the Republican electoral column. This state wandered away in 1924, when the elder La Follette put aside all pretenses of technical Republican regularity and ran for president as the leader of a new third party composed of La Folletteites, Farmer-Laborites, Socialists and certain labor union elements. His own constituency voted for him, and he carried no other state.

Wisconsin had given its electors McKinley in 1896 and 1900, to Roosevelt in 1904 and to Taft in 1908. It had been carried by Wilson in 1912, but had reverted to Hughes in 1916 and to Harding in 1920. In 1924, however, the state government passed into the hands of the La Follette dynasty, and remained there, with only the interval of 1914-20 until 1926, where Gov. Zimmerman was re-elected as a dissenting La Folletteite. Now the state has been won by Mr. Hoover by a plurality of 100,000, and Walter J. Kohler, regular Republican, anti-La Follette nominee for governor, has won it by a plurality exceeding 150,000.

Wisconsin was put down confidently as a Smith state, both because of its wetness and of the scarcely veiled hostility of the La Follette faction to Mr. Hoover's candidacy. Senator Blaine came out openly for Gov. Smith. Senator La Follette was passive in his opposition. Only two of the nine La Follette representatives in congress supported Mr. Hoover. In 1924 the senior La Follette polled 453,678 votes and John W. Davis 68,115, an anti-Republican total of 521,793. President Coolidge's vote was 311,614, leaving an anti-Republican margin of 210,179. Mr. Hoover gained about 290,000 votes, compared with 1924, and the Smith vote was about 100,000 less than the combined La Follette-Davis vote of that year.

Though the younger La Follette was re-elected to the senate as a Republican, the prestige of his organization has been shattered by the Hoover victory and the loss of the governorship. Two anti-La Follette representatives in congress have been chosen and two former La Follette representatives, re-elected have turned regular.

CHILDHOOD HEALTH DETERMINES FUTURE

By Royal S. Copeland, M. D.
United States Senator from New York, Former Commissioner of Health, New York City.

A short time ago my duties took me to Elmira, N. Y. The mayor and an ex-mayor of the city invited me to visit the State Reformatory for Boys. I am glad I went. Dr. Christian is the able director of that ancient establishment. Answering our questions, he gave us much valuable information concerning the causes of delinquency and the human efforts to combat it.

Here are some interesting facts: In the penal institutions of New York state are 6,000 males and only 90 women. On the face of it, that speaks pretty well for our sisters. Of course there are other considerations involved than incarceration in prisons.

There have been 37,000 boys in the Elmira establishment since its founding. Of these only two were ever Boy Scouts. Another state institution for wayward boys has cared for 38,000. Not one of these was ever a Boy Scout. In short out of a population of 75,000, only two lads who have had the privileges of membership in the Boy Scout movement have fallen from grace sufficiently to go to prison. That is wonderful!

With the large Jewish population of my state, it speaks mightily well for that race that of the 1,200 boys in Elmira, only 62 are of that faith. This speaks well for the Jews and for their sheltering societies.

Most of the boys who go to the State Reformatory are undersized and poorly nourished. Their warped and abnormal minds are the natural results of poorly fed brains, badly nourished by impoverished blood.

Dr. Christian and his able staff devote themselves to the responsibility of these frail little bodies. Wholesome, nourishing food is supplied. Out of door work and setting up exercises in good weather develop the muscles. Trades are taught to hold the interest. Gradually the minds of the lads respond to the improved health and stronger bodies.

I saw a thousand of the inmates in a military dress parade, which we helped to review. Their maneuvers were "snappy" and their conduct superb.

The answer was gratifying: "Two out of three boys paroled stay good." In short, there are at least 60 per cent of successes on the first trial. Most of those who are returned make good eventually.

Dr. Christian emphasized the importance of parental control. The child humored in his eating and his habits, permitted to run down in health because of wrong living, and never held to account for his manner of life—such a child faces disaster.

The physical foundation laid in early childhood determines the future. There can be no doubt, I am sure, of the correctness of this view. It is Dr. Christian's conclusion, based on years of experience with delinquents. It is the teaching of science. Certainly it harmonizes with the ideas of the medical profession.

No self parent can possibly give his child can be more precious than the gift of good health. That is a matter which, in most instances, is within the control of the parent.

Answers to Health Queries
I. H. Q.—Is there a cure for St. Vitus's dance or chorea?

A.—Since the trouble is due to a nervous disturbance, this must be cleared up first of all. Avoid undue strain or tax upon the nerves and build up the health in general. For further particulars send a self-addressed, stamped envelope and repeat your question.

M. M. Q.—What causes my legs and fingers to feel cold and numb at times?

A.—You are probably troubled with poor circulation due in most instances to a run-down state of health. Try to build up your entire system by proper exercise and diet. For full particulars send a self-addressed, stamped envelope and repeat your question.

For Thursday, Nov. 22.

ACCORDING to the planetary operations for this day there will be given much opportunity for calling into requisition the opposing force to delays, obstacles and seemingly insurmountable barriers. But the grim stubbornness and patience of Saturn, squared by Venus, will assist to the desired perseverance and dogged diligence necessary to overcome those stubborn obstructions. But little gain will be made financially since the energies must be bent to holding ground.

Those whose birthday it is may expect a year of tenacious obstructions. Let patience have its part to work. A child born on this day should be given the instruction and training to enable it to meet obstacles and vicissitudes with patience, resolution and perseverance, as it may succeed by steadfast purpose.

MISSIONARY IN LIBERIA WINS HEAD HUNTERS

Washington, Nov. 21. — Perseous head-hunters, trackless jungle, tropical climate, fever, and all the other complements of an undeveloped country have been unable to give pause to the work of Robert E. Campbell, Episcopal missionary bishop of Liberia.

For thirteen years Bishop Campbell has struggled relentlessly with these forces and, according to churchmen who attended the triennial episcopal convention in Washington, is emerging a winner.

He has been a bishop only three years of this time. For approximately ten years he was Prior of the Holy Cross mission to interior Liberia.

Originally an Augustinian monk in St. Andrew's mission to the mountain people of Tennessee, Campbell went to Liberia in 1918 to become Prior of the Holy Cross mission. With the exception of two years, during which he was with fever, he labored in the jungles until 1925, when the triennial convention at New Orleans elected him bishop.

Appointed Bishop
Although still full of fever and convinced that his return to Liberia would altogether wreck his health, Campbell accepted the post.

Since that time he has always been "on the go," traveling on foot, horseback, by canoe or palanquin, through jungles whose only roads were game trails, converting tribes, establishing schools and helping natives to establish a sound economic system.

Until a year ago there were no roads in his jurisdiction but from his home in Monrovia he has been continually traveling to the most remote places with no weapon except his breviary.

He has never yet been attacked by any of the numerous tribes of head-hunters whom he is gradually weaning from their grisly vocation.

The savages, he says, welcome establishment of missions as they are aware that such missions bring free schools and help to economic welfare.

Since the establishment of the first Liberian colony as a home for freed American negroes more than 100 years ago, the civilized negroes on the coast have looked almost entirely to America for guidance and help in every endeavor. Consequently, though they have their own government and economic organization, they have failed to advance industrially with the times.

Utilizing Resources
Bishop Campbell is helping them to advance, with his industrial schools by teaching them to utilize the natural resources abounding in the country.

Before accepting help spiritually, the savages in the interior must first be assured of material help. They are readily converted after a mission is established and long before conversion rarely attack a priest. The priest, however, must wear a beard, for the Mohammedans have firmly implanted the idea that a man of God may be known by his beard.

Workers Undermine Old Roman Cemetery

Budapest, Nov. 21. — A 1800-2000 year old Roman cemetery was discovered by railway workmen in the vicinity of Budapest. While digging along the railway line, the spade of a man struck against a marble sarcophagus and soon two others were found.

The authorities were informed and an expert excavation was started. So far 82 graves were laid bare, all containing the remains of evidently very wealthy Romans. Beautiful jewels, funeral relics and even medical instruments were found besides the skeletons, who were once probably prominent citizens of the Roman colony Aquincum, the ruins of which are figuring in every tourist guide of Budapest.

Some of the graves were housing female skeletons. One of them held a silver mirror between her fingers. The hollow sockets of her eyes were looking into it—for 2000 years.

Ohio Game Has Great Food Value; Hunters Pay Costs

Nearly Half-Million Taken To Fields of State For Bunnies

Columbus, Nov. 21.—Of the 400,000 licensed hunters in Ohio it is estimated that at least 300,000 were fielded on the opening of the rabbit and pheasant season November 15.

The food value of the game produced in Ohio is enormous when the fact that at least half a million rabbits were taken the first day alone. The number killed is probably much larger than half a million. Most hunters will bag at least one rabbit. Some may get none but the majority will kill from three to five. Many will get the limit of five. The average weight of dressed rabbits is about two pounds. Each hunter is entitled to two pheasants. Thirty per cent of the hunters will kill at least one pheasant.

Ohio's crop of game and wild life has food value. This is often overlooked by those who do not hunt and who may think only of the killing of game. Hunters are interested in securing game as food as much as they are in actual hunting for game. The rearing of game does not cost the taxpayer one cent in direct taxation. It is paid for with sportsmen's license money. Ohio sportsmen contribute nearly half a million dollars in license fees each year to the game department.

Many Killed
When the number of rabbits and pheasants killed each day of the season is estimated, the food value is enormous. The recreational value of a day is also to be considered. Hunters are no longer destroying property, breaking fences and committing depredations as they did years ago, due to the educational work of the sportsmen's organizations.

Only a small per cent of the 400,000 hunters will violate the game laws or destroy property. They are respecting the farmer's rights and Ohio farmers this year are more liberal in granting permission to hunt than they have been for 20 years, according to reports of League of Ohio Sportsmen headquarters.

Waste Lands
The job of maintaining the supply of game is a big one for the game department. Ohio's waste lands can be made to produce ten times as much game as they now produce. The sportsman in planning a state department of construction have a big program of game breeding and restocking in mind.

The hunting season also brings millions of dollars to Ohio business men, to sporting goods stores, garages, gasoline stations, hotels, railways, clothing merchants. Ohio farmers also realize an income from

Zogu Asks Austria For Ancient Crown To Wear on Nov. 28

Vienna, Nov. 21.—Zogu I, ruler of all Albanians wants to adorn his new kingship with an old, dignified crown, or rather with the historical helmet of the Albanian national hero Skanderbeg.

Zogu has selected November 28, the Albanian "independence day," for the coronation ceremony which will be held in Konia, the legendary citadel of Skanderbeg. For this occasion he wishes to use the helmet-crown, which is, however, since the sixteenth century in possession of the Austrian state. He hopes that the Austrian government will comply with his wishes, endorsed by Mussolini and that the mediaeval helmet, made from copper and iron, will be promoted from an exhibit in the Vienna museum to the symbol of power of the king of all Albanians.

On November 28 Zogu is also expected to announce his change of religion. Like Skanderbeg in the 15th century, he has cast away the Moslem faith and become a Catholic, thus clearing the way for his eagerly desired family connection with the Italian royal family. His next aim is the foundation of a "serious" dynasty by marrying the Italian king's daughter, Princess Giovanna.

The Moslem clans of Albania, therefore, turned against Zogu, a plot against his life was discovered and martial law was proclaimed throughout the country. Most Albanian news comes through Belgrade, and sometimes is denied by Rome. Confirmation is impossible.

Woman Seans Faces On Rogue Pictures

New York, Nov. 21.—Mrs. Ruth S. Keyes, Chicago blonde, was taken to police headquarters today to view rogues gallery pictures of some of the gamblers who have been mentioned in the hunt for the slayer of Arnold Rothstein.

Mrs. Keyes, the wife of a Chicago brakeman and a "free lance clothing model," arrived here last night from Chicago in custody of two detectives. She was immediately spirited away to the seclusion of an uptown hotel, out of the reach of newspapermen, and questioned by District Attorney Jacob H. Banton about the "party" she attended in room 349 of the Park Central hotel on the evening of Nov. 4. Rothstein was shot in that same room a few hours later.

The "mystery woman" came here of her own free will and is not under arrest. In Chicago she told detectives that she met a man named Jack at the hotel and had a few drinks with him. She did not know Rothstein, she said. Police hope she will identify one of the rogues gallery pictures as that of "Jack," thus aiding them in clearing up the mystery.

Judge's Ruling Will Affect Commuters

Buffalo, N. Y., Nov. 21.—Nearly 200 non-Canadian residents of the province of Ontario who had been permitted to enter this country as commuters under bond of $350 are expected to be affected by the ruling of Federal Judge John R. Hazel yesterday in dismissing a writ of habeas corpus under which John Graber, of Port Erie, Ont., had been permitted to enter the United States without a valid passport. Graber is a non-British resident of Canada. Preston M. Albino, counsel for Graber, announced that an appeal from Judge Hazel's decision would be taken immediately. The question of whether aliens will be permitted to cross and recross the border pending a hearing of the appeal will be decided next Saturday.

Snow Makes Highway Dangerous; Man Dies

Jack Sharkey Now Rates In Elite Of Boston; New Home

Builds Palatial Place Out In Imposing Part Of Beantown; His Schedule Calls For Several Fistic Brawls Soon

By DAVIS J. WALSH

New York, Nov. 21.—The Tunney influence, committed to betterment and uplift among vegetating ears, has claimed a prominent convert, according to audible gossip that filtered out the backstairs from the servants' quarters today. The Jack Sharkey, of Boston, have joined the young married set of and contiguous to Chestnut Hill, where field trials in suburban swank are held daily. They are preparing to exchange neighborly calls.

Mr. Sharkey, whose name attained considerable prominence in the newspapers several years ago in a professional way, has purchased a $50,000 home in an imposing domain of the idle rich, and, having been sponsored by the action of established millions, is in a position to bowl formally whenever bowed to.

Meanwhile, his managing director Mr. John Buckley, has been most conspicuous at Boston's "first night" of the theater, Mr. Buckley being a man of very commanding presence. His white shirt front alone has been the cynosure of many envious eyes. Mr. Buckley is not one to neglect the amenities of his position as associate of Mr. Sharkey, of the Chestnut Hill Sharkeys.

Work upon the latter's estate is being forward apace. I am informed, and soon his imposing residence will be furnished to taste; also, in some opulence. It is said that Mr. Sharkey has taken it "on the nut" to the amount of $20,000 in order to give his new home just the proper background. The expression in question was used by a young society man from Revere Beach. It isn't likely that Mr. Sharkey would know him.

In the rear of the estate is a four car garage and, of course, the servants' quarters must be kept up because the help nowadays are so independent. It's a problem, really.

Mr. Sharkey will be at home often but not always. He has his duty to his public. This he will perform from time to time throughout a busy winter season, democratically stripping to the waist like any commoner. He thus will have his moments when he will mix freely with the man in the street; also the man in the ring. Always well to know how the other half lives you know.

Good Games on Ohio Gridirons

Much whoopee will emanate from the confines of Edwards field Saturday where Ohio Wesleyan and Wittenberg are to engage in annual fracas. Just by way of diversion, the Springfield Lutherans will bring their own wooden bladders with them, ostensibly to be used for seating purposes, as this is to be the last conflict in the historic Delaware battlefield.

Last year Wittenberg put the Bishops away 9-6. This year the result should be very much otherwise.

Perhaps the toughest engagement in the entire U. S. A., will take place at Cincinnati when St. Xavier exchanges personalities, etc., with West Virginia Wesleyan, this year's victors over W. and J.

The menu while not extensive is calculated to give more than an inkling in regards to the comparative merits of the various conferences in the Buckeye state.

Bowling Green, champions of the Northwestern conference takes on the maverick Kent State team.

Muskingum will complete with another tough line Saturday when the Dayton flyers play host to the tough little outfit from New Concord.

Denison goes to Athens for a Buckeye tilt with Ohio U., and Case and Western Reserve will mix things at Cleveland.

Minnesota Ready

Minneapolis, Minn., Nov. 21.—With Duke Johnson, star tackle, back in the scrimmage lineup, Coach Doc Spears reported he had his Minnesota varsity squad at full strength for the big game against Wisconsin at Madison Saturday. ## Coach John Thorpe Tells Grid Secrets To Salem Rotarians

When a coach selects his quarterback, drills him thoroughly on what to do under certain circumstances, then sends his team onto the field, his strategy ends there.

With that statement John M. Thorpe, football coach of Mt. Union college, discounted many of the claims that a coach's strategy has won football games.

Thorpe, speaking before the Rotary club Tuesday noon at the Elks home, said that a coach can only train a quarterback how to direct the team plays to meet certain conditions, but that on the field the team is confronted with many situations that cannot be foreseen and the boys themselves must work out the solution.

In his talk the Mount Union traced the history of football in interesting fashion, from the days of its origin in the sixteenth century, to the many changes of the present. He declared that the open game of today is the safest, most spectacular and cleanest since the start of the popular grid game.

Thorpe was introduced to the club by C. D. Harris.

Last Tackle For Ohio State Gridders

Columbus, Nov. 21.—Fourteen senior members of the Ohio State university football squad will take part in the annual "last tackle" observance at the Ohio stadium practice field, tomorrow night which will mark the end of their football careers with the Buckeye aggregation, except for Saturday's conflict.

The "last tackle," a solemn event which will bring to an end the gridiron days of some and others it will be the last of collegiate football before they begin participation in the professional pinstrip world. It will be held following the last practice session of the Buckeyes before they entrain for Champaign, Ill., where they will meet the Illinois gridders for the final match of the 1928 season.

In presence of their teammates and coaches, the 14 seniors will throw themselves at the tackling dummy as their last act on the practice field with the Scarlet and Gray aggregation.

Cowboy Willis In Close Decision Tilt

Los Angeles, Nov. 21.—Cowboy Jack Willis today boasted a victory over Joe Anderson Kentucky middleweight, following a ten round battle at Olympic club last night. The bout was fairly even until the ninth when Willis put Joe through the ropes with a series of hard rights and lefts to the head. This flurry won the Cowboy the decision.

European Crooks Are Tamer Than American Thugs

Paris, Nov. 21.—European crooks are not half as vicious as their American colleagues, but drugs account for the difference according to Harry V. Dougherty, famous crook catcher of New York. Mr. Dougherty, head of the detective bureau bearing his name, is now in Europe to study how lawbreakers are apprehended and handled on this side of the Atlantic.

"Criminals are criminals wherever you go, but it seems to me that European bandits do not resort to murder except when in the tightest of corners. Neither did ours—before prohibition. Prohibition made drug addicts, and drug addicts make the desperadoes who nowadays shoot down their victims in cold blood," said Mr. Dougherty.

Four out of every thousand Americans are registered dope addicts, and the number of secret narcotic users is probably twice that ratio, in the opinion of the detective.

Explorers Claim Lost Tribe Still Lives In Terror

Chicago, Nov. 21.—Up on the roof of the world in Baffin land and northern Labrador remnants of the old Algonquin tribe of Indians, chased north about the time of the Revolutionary War, still live in fear and trembling that the warlike Iroquois will follow them north and drive them still further into the recesses of the frozen north.

Dr. William Duncan, Strong of the Field Museum of Natural History, told of finding the "lost tribe" when he returned to Chicago after spending fifteen months as anthropologist with an expedition.

Have Old Legends

The tribes still have legends and myths that prove beyond all doubt that they are the old Algonquians," Dr. Strong declared.

"They are nomadic and live almost entirely as hunters of caribou. They use modern rifles, furnished by the Hudson Bay company, but the guns are only a bit of modern equipment they possess.

"The word 'Shokkive', which is pronounced almost as is Chicago, means in language 'skunk' and adds color to their Algonquin origin as Chicago, in the old Indian tongue of the Illinois valley meant 'land of the skunks.'

"From close observation of the northern Indian tribes it would seem that the Indians and the Eskimos both came originally from Mongolia by way of the Aleutian islands and thence through North America.

Are Dying Out

"Temperatures range about 40 degrees below zero but that cold temperature seems hardly colder than in New York, Chicago and other cities. The women, when they acquire a new outfit of clothing put it on over their old clothes so that a waddling figure may mean an indication of great relative wealth.

"No whiskey or other alcoholic drink is sold to the Indians or Eskimos but they take one part of molasses to nine parts of water and a cake of yeast and boil up a mixture that is extremely potent and almost as vile in taste as our own moonshine.

"The Indians are dying out rapidly. The 1918 influenza epidemic cut the tribe in half. Within 150 years they will be a vanished race."

This is an exclusive and hitherto unpublished photo of Inez Norton, the blond showgirl whom Arnold Rothstein, late king of the gamblers, willed one-sixth of his fortune. ## New Hair Mode from Broadway

Everyone admires my hair, now that I'm doing it the new way that nearly every smart girl I know is using," says Mrs. Agnes Trancy, popular dancer, now appearing in the Broadway hit, "Rio Rita." My hair doesn't need shampooing more than once a month, now. My scalp feels better than it ever has felt. I have gotten rid of all my dandruff. My hair is much easier to arrange, and it stays that way. All I do to keep it like this is put a few daches of Danderine on my brush every time I use it. It is wonderful how Danderine adds to the beauty of your hair, makes it look so silky and beautiful.

Danderine is not only. It removes the only film from each strand of hair and restores the natural color and lustre. It dissolves dandruff, cleanses and invigorates the scalp. It is delightfully fragrant. The big bottles are just the at all drug stores. Beautiful, smooth, gleaming hair and a healthy scalp for a few cents.

LONDON MAN IS SURE HE SPOKE TO SHAKESPEARE

London, Nov. 20.—The amazing claim that he has spoken by acoustics with Shakespeare and Aeschylus is made here by Sir Frank Benson, the well-known theatrical manager and actor, who ranks high among the contemporary interpreters of Shakespearean roles.

Sir Frank, who has long been interested in spiritualism, gave the first hint of his astounding tete-a-tete with these two past masters of the drama in a brief foreword to a recently-published book on spiritualism. Reporters flocked to his presence, and he rewarded them with his startling claim.

"I am convinced and satisfied," Sir Frank declared, "that it was in-lately through the agency of a medium. He offered me some sound advice."

"It was during a seance, when suddenly a voice—indubitably that of Shakespeare—spoke to me."

"I know you are engaged with my plays," Shakespeare said. "I am glad. Go on."

"I asked no question and spoke no answer, but listened for the next voice. It was not long before Aeschylus, the Greek playwright, spoke."

"It was I who sent you to work on the stage before my great success," the voice declared. "Our work is on the same lines."

By the success, Aeschylus meant Shakespeare, and Sir Frank's explanation of the meaning of the message originally in consequence of the success of the 'Agamemnon' which he played while an undergraduate at Oxford. 'Agamemnon', of course, is one of the Greek dramatist's best known plays.

"I am perfectly satisfied," Sir Frank continued, "that the communications were genuine. That Aeschylus spoke to me in English, and that Shakespeare's language was not archaic is but natural. Though I have no language. Words are symbols."

Sir Frank declares that he has on several occasions spoken with his son, who was killed in the war. He says he was going to make no special effort to tune in on Shakespeare again, but indicated he hoped that the interesting conversation might be renewed at a later date.

I Am Enjoying Better Health Than In Years

Another Officer Lauds Owa-Ton-Na For The Good It Has Done.

You folks who are sick and ailing and in a run down nervous condition; those who are suffering from stomach, liver and kidney ailments; rheumatism and neuritis; don't give up hope. Hundreds of people right in this city, who have recently been taking Owa-Ton-Na can tell of the good it is accomplishing for eager health seekers. Read the amazing story about one of the best known police officers in Massillon and you will soon learn that it is not hard to get yourself feeling right.

Mr. Harry Getz, who lives at 315 Rose ave. Massillon, says that in all his experience he has never taken anything that seemed to go right after the trouble and eliminate it. For several years he has gradually been getting in worse condition.

He says, "My stomach has not been right for the past 3 years. I was bloated up with gas, my head felt dizzy and groggy, and I was always tired out. Sometimes it seemed that I had to force myself to eat. My food had no taste to me. My kidneys were in terrible condition causing me frequent backaches and I had to get up several times at night to relieve them."

"I must have been getting to the point where rheumatism was getting in, as my joints frequently pained me and made me miserable. All in all I was feeling pretty bad and far from the way I used to feel."

"When Owa-Ton-Na was recommended to me I thought it would be just like all the other medicines I had taken, but much to my surprise, I could notice a big change ever from the first bottle. My old indigestion trouble seemed to disappear. When I sat down to the table I could eat anything that was put before me and what an appetite I had. At first, I was afraid to eat what I wanted, as I could hardly believe that I would not suffer from eating as I had before but this fear left me as nothing seemed to hurt me. I don't have those awful attacks of gas and bloating and I now eat anything I want."

"My headaches are a thing of the past and my kidneys are acting much better. What a relief it is to get rid of that tired worn-out feeling and to regain your old-time pep. I can certainly recommend Owa-Ton-Na to anyone who suffers with the conditions for which it is recommended. All anyone needs to do to be convinced is to give it a trial and I am sure the first bottle will make them equally as enthusiastic about this old Indian remedy as I am."

Owa-Ton-Na is now obtainable at Picking, J. H. Lease and Bolger and French Drug Stores. Adv
